

FY2018 Omnibus:

McSally-Advocated Arizona Military Asset Wins

- Contains numerous wins for Arizona's military assets:
  - An additional $103 million for new A-10 wings
  - $108 million for Compass Call Cross Deck initiative
  - $10.2 billion for 90 F-35 Joint Strike Fighters
  - Additional funding to address munitions shortages: including $221.4 for 26 additional Tomahawk missiles (which are made in Tucson)

Rebuilding our Military

- Puts a tourniquet on our military readiness crisis and rebuilding our military:
  - Funding for 8,500 additional active duty troops and 1,000 additional Guard and Reserve troops
  - $144.3 billion for military equipment and upgrades, which is more than $25 billion above fiscal 2017 spending
  - 2.4 percent pay raise for our troops

Securing our Borders

- To secure the border, the bill increases funding for new border infrastructure, additional agents, more detention beds, better surveillance technology, and other measures that will help close the security gaps that put our border and nation at risk.
  - $1.571 billion for border security assets and infrastructure with over 90 miles of physical barrier construction along the Southern border – including replacement, bollards, and levee improvements
  - $170 million in surveillance technology
  - $7 million to hire 351 new law enforcement officers
  - $190 million for new aircraft and sensors
  - $263.6 million for new, non-intrusive inspection and trade equipment

Investing in Aging Infrastructure

- Makes major investments in infrastructure across the board to help boost the economy and promote future growth.
  - Provides robust funding to rebuild, improve, and modernize America's highways, roads, and bridges
  - Expedites rural broadband expansion
  - Funds the TIGER grant program, which helps complete critical transportation projects identified by state and local communities, such as SR-189

Combatting the Opioid Crisis

- Provides $4 billion in resources to combat the opioid crisis that President Trump has declared as a national emergency
  - This month, Congresswoman McSally urged appropriators to include this funding for those populations most in need including states with the highest per-capita overdose mortality rates, as well as tribal and rural areas
  - As a result of this advocacy, hundreds of millions of dollars will be set aside for the states hardest hit by the opioid crisis and $50 million of this funding is specifically designated for Indian Tribes and tribal organizations. It will invest billions in treatment, prevention, and law enforcement efforts to stop the spread of these dangerous drugs and help families and communities get the assistance they need

McSally-Advocated Arizona Victories

- McSally advocated for increased funding for numerous other programs that are important to Arizona, including:
  - Funding for the State Criminal Alien Assistance Program (SCAAP) which reimburses states and localities for the costs of incarcerating unlawfully present individuals who have committed crimes in the United States. In July, Congresswoman McSally convened a meeting with all four Sheriffs serving along Arizona's southwest border during which the sheriffs asked for financial assistance
  - Funding to address longstanding deferred maintenance needs at our National Parks. The National Parks Service currently has an $11.9 billion dollar backlog, which is a figure that has increased steadily since 2009. Arizona has \$565 million in delayed or deferred projects, one of the largest backlogs of any state in the country—that includes $12.9 million at Saguaro National Park and $10.3 million at Chiricahua National Monument
  - Funding for wildland fire suppression costs, hazardous fuels management, and forest management
  - Funding for important seniors programs included in the Older Americans Act (OAA), such as the Meals on Wheels Program, which will benefit services like the Pima Council on Aging which has a long history of developing programs to improve the lives of older residents in Tucson and throughout Pima County. In September, Martha visited local seniors who benefited from OAA programs like Meals on Wheels
  - And fixes the “grain glitch” and puts agricultural cooperatives and their competitors on a level playing field with respect to the 20 percent deduction for active business income
